MR. RUTLEDGE NOT DEAD. It has been learned since the publication of the death notice of W. T. Rutledge yesterday morning that he is not dead, as reported, although he is seriously ill in Harrisburg. How the story was started no one seems able to tell, unless it was brought about by the fact that his son Charles was summoned to his bedside by telegraph.

FREIGHT CONDUCTOR INJURED. Wm. J. Mitchell, a freight conductor, was seriously injured about the head Thursday afternoon near Buena Vista. It seems that the engine of a material train collided with the rear end of the freight of which Mr. Mitchell was conductor, and completely demolished the caboose. The engine was also badly damaged. Mr. Mitchell was brought back to the city and removed to his home in northeast Roanoke.

DON'T FAIL TO ATTEND the auction sale of furniture, etc., to day, commencing at 10 a. m., at the residence of P. Lockett, corner Franklin road and Spruce street. At 4 p. m. to lay his residence and lot, corner Franklin road and Spruce street, will also be offered for sale to the highest bidder.

ATCHISON ARRESTED. The man Atchison, who recently shot Detective Brown, at Narrows, Giles county, has been arrested in Middleboro, Ky., and is detained for the Virginia authorities. It is also thought that Will Parsons, alias Wm. Redd, is under arrest at Cleveland, Ohio. The desperadoes were making good time, but were not swift enough to get out of the way of the law.

SPECIAL REVIVAL. On Sunday night a special revival service will begin in Trinity M. E. Church, South. Rev. H. I. Stephens, of the St. James Church, will assist Rev. Mr. Jones, the pastor. Two services will be held daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

KODAK GIVEN AWAY with "Fad" pepsin gum, 2 packs for 5 cents, at Massie's Pharmacy.

DELIGHTFUL TROLLEY RIDE. A trolley party was given Thursday night by the young men of the Street Railway Company. Refreshments were served aboard the car and the occasion was one of great enjoyment to all who participated. Among the young ladies in attendance were Miss Annie Deacon, of Lynchburg; Misses Mary, Rosa and Elsie Fuqua, of Vinton; Misses Fannie Wayland, Callie Smith, Ruth Dyer, Mae and Lizzie Bennett, Fannie Stiff, Mollie Hackler, Hattie Wingfield, Laurie Pollard, Ida Franklin, Mary Saunders, Hart and Moore, of Roanoke.

A PRETTY EXHIBIT. At Massie's Pharmacy there is an exhibition of china painted by Mrs. T. W. Goodwin, who will reopen her class at her studio, 1119 Henry street, after October 1.

SERIOUSLY ILL. The Floyd Press of this week, has the following concerning a man well known in Roanoke: "We regret to announce that our oldest citizen, Richard Darnall, was taken suddenly ill at the dinner table last Friday and has been in a precarious condition ever since, and but little hopes are entertained for his recovery. Messrs. Thomas R. Darnall, of Bluefield, W. Va., H. M. Darnall, of Roanoke, and Mrs. Sallie Webb, of Roanoke, and Mrs. J. Persinger, of Roanoke, and Mrs. L. M. Payne, of Norfolk, children of Mr. Darnall, are at the bedside of their father."

Get Cont's Castle Soap and you will get the best made. It is the genuine imported, and while it costs more money than any other brand, it costs you no more. In cakes and bars at Massie's Pharmacy.

NO CURE NO PAY. Skillman's N. F. Corn, Wart and Bunion Cure for sale by all druggists. Price 10 cents.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Owing to inability to be present of the speaker who was secured for the occasion, there will be no services in the hall tomorrow afternoon.

NEW ORLEANS AND THE FEVER.

A letter dated September 28 has been received from Vincent Gray, son of the late Dr. H. V. Gray, and who is in business in New Orleans, denying that any undue apprehension exists in that city because of the prevalence of the yellow fever in a mild form, or that men with business interests there are leaving for the North. He says a few men, representing manufacturers from the North, have closed their offices and returned to their homes, and a number of clerks have thrown up their positions and returned to their mammas and papas, but that there is no truth in the statement that business men are running away from New Orleans, which, with a population of over 300,000, has, he says, a death rate that is less than that of any other city in the Union.

HOW THEY STAND.

ROBINSON-VEST.

On Thursday night at the home of the bride's mother, on Mountain avenue s. w., Miss Corn B. Vest was married to G. W. Robinson, a prosperous farmer of Appomattox county. Rev. T. J. Shipman officiated. There were no attendants, only a few intimate friends of the family being present. They will leave to day for the home of the groom in Appomattox county. The bride is a daughter of the late Officer Vest and has many friends in the city.

"THE MAN OF GALILEE."

Hon. Geo. B. Wendling, of Washington, who on Thursday night so highly pleased a large and cultured audience, spoke again last night at Calvary Baptist Church and fully sustained his reputation as a lecturer and platform speaker, although a less number of people heard him last night than on the previous occasion. The subject of his lecture, "The Man of Galilee," was ably and adroitly handled, much to the gratification of all who had the good fortune to hear him. He has a masterly control over the English language and his word painting of incidents in the life of the Saviour was simply marvellous. Mr. Wendling's coming to Roanoke has been a source of great pleasure to the many who took the time and pains to hear him lecture. He left last night for his home in Washington.

FALL STYLES.

FIFTH WARD DEMOCRATS.

Last night a very enthusiastic meeting was held in the Fifth ward. Mr. R. R. Hicks was present and made an excellent address, discussing the principles of the Democratic party and the issues of the day. His remarks were terse, lucid and replete with sound common sense. Chairman F. S. Bell then called upon other speakers present and Prof. S. S. and A. K. Handy both responded in a happy manner, several times being roundly applauded. A Democratic club was then organized with the following officers: President, A. J. Davis; secretary, S. S. Handy; treasurer, A. K. Handy. On motion of Mr. Payne the organization was named "The Tyler-Hicks Club." Messrs. Handy, Payne and Figgat were appointed as a programme committee. At 9:30, on motion of Mr. Hicks, the club adjourned to meet again next Friday night, when an interesting musical programme will be presented, and Mr. Glasgow and Judge Robertson will be the speakers. It is proposed to make the Tyler-Hicks club one of the best organizations in the city, and all Fifth ward Democrats are urged to rally to the support of the club.

FIRST MONTH'S WORK.

The Schools of This City are in a Prosperous Condition.

The public schools of this city closed their first month of the present session yesterday and in the afternoon all the reports were placed in the hands of Superintendent Rust, who in turn had rendered up the receipts for the same. The clerk of the school board at once issued warrants for the amount of each teacher's salary and before night checks were in their hands and their hearts were gladdened to the extent of the value of the check which each held, ranging in value from $40 to $110.

There is no mistaking the fact that Roanoke is supplied with a most efficient corps of teachers, as good, perhaps, as can be found anywhere in the State of Virginia or in the South. As a school town Roanoke is taking high rank and nowhere are the public schools more popular and especially our high school, where a boy or girl can graduate with an education that will well fit them for any ordinary position in life.

Over and above all is the promptness of the teachers in perfecting their work so as to be able to get their checks. Mr. Rust, who is ever on the alert, has prepared his report to State Superintendent Massie, and last night it was mailed and perhaps while you are reading this that State official may be scanning a report of the first month of school work in this city for this scholastic year. This is what might be called real promptness.

The reports handed Superintendent Rust yesterday show that the monthly enrollment was as follows: High school, four teachers, 103 pupils; Commerce street school, ten teachers, 555 pupils; Belmont school, six teachers, 292 pupils; Relief school, three teachers, 147 pupils; Gilmer avenue school, four teachers, 267 pupils; Melrose school, eight teachers, 447 pupils, making a total in the white schools of thirty-five teachers and 1,815 pupils.

In the Fifth ward colored school are four teachers and 488 pupils. Another teacher will be allowed this school at once. Third ward colored school, four teachers and 259 pupils, making a total of eight teachers and 774 pupils, or a grand total of white and colored teachers of forty-three and 2,592 pupils. This is an increase of about 300 over the total enrollment for the month of last year.

THE SITUATION IN MADRID.

The Queen Regent Unable to Arrive at a Decision.

Madrid, Oct. 1.—The queen regent conferred to-day with many of the political leaders, but arrived at no decision, that promises to solve the ministerial crisis.

It is probable that her majesty's consultations will not be finished until some time to-morrow, owing to the absence from the city of several leaders whose opinions she desires to hear. The Marquis Pazo de la Merced, president of the senate, was one of those with whom her majesty conferred to-day. He advised the formation of a liberal cabinet should the divisions in the conservative party continue irreconcilable.

The prospect for the formation of ministry by Senor Sagasta, the liberal leader, is well received by politicians and financiers and a majority of the newspapers.

BLANTON NOMINATED

As Democratic House Candidate for Buckingham and Cumberland.

Farmville, Va., Oct. 1.—The Democratic convention was held to-day at Cumberland Courthouse to nominate a candidate to represent Buckingham and Cumberland in the next legislature. There was no opposition to the nomination of Col. B. W. L. Blanton, of Cumberland, and he was chosen by acclamation. Colonel Blanton is an wheel horse in Democratic harness. He has never been anything but a staunch party man. He made a rattling good speech of acceptance, pledging himself to the best interests of his constituents and of his State. The usual resolutions were adopted, endorsing the Chicago platform and Hon. John W. Daniel's course as Senator. A very masterful speech was made by Charles M. Wallace, of Richmond. There was considerable disappointment expressed at the failure of Mr. Echols to show up, as he had been advertised to make an address there to-day.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SPLIT.

Abingdon, Va., Oct. 1.—One of Washington county's Democratic factions met here to-day and nominated Dr. W. T. Dalaney, of Bristol city, and John R. Robinson, of Glade Spring, for the house of delegates. The Washington county Democrats seem now hopelessly divided, and each faction has a ticket in the field. The faction that met to-day will nominate a candidate for the Senate on Saturday next. The Republicans will hardly put out a ticket, but the leaders will attempt to throw the Republican vote for the "regular" Democratic ticket.

RICHMOND AND LANCASTER.

Both Parties Make Nominations for the House.

Warsaw, Va., Oct. 1.—The Democrats of the legislative district composed of Richmond and Lancaster counties met in convention at Wheaton, Lancaster county, yesterday afternoon and nominated by acclamation R. Carter Wellford, of this county, as their candidate for the house of representatives. The convention was largely attended and much interest was manifested. The action of the Roanoke convention was endorsed and Hon. W. A. Jones was commended for his course in advocating the nomination of United States Senators by primary election. The convention also recommended a primary for Richmond county to ascertain the choice of the Democratic voters as to their preference for county judge.

The Republicans for the same legislative district met at Nutsville this afternoon and nominated T. Spicer Curlett for the house of Delegates. The convention is said to have been very spirited.
